

Thinking and Talking

We listen to one another

We listen with our ears, but also our eyes, mouth and our whole body.

We think and add to other people's ideas

We think about what other people say and we build on their ideas to stretch our own thinking.

All ideas are respected

We listen to everyone's ideas, even if we have a different idea.

No one right
answer

There may be no one right answer that we can find. There may be lots of answers.
